DIScover Arbitration in Germany and Current Trends in Post-M&A Disputes

Arbitration is an increasingly popular choice for dispute resolution in cross-border corporate transactions. In Germany, it has become the common method of resolving post-M&A disputes. Typical scenarios include disputes about contractual representations and warranties, purchase price adjustments, MAC clauses, earnouts, escrowed funds, and statutory tort claims. Often legal and accounting questions are intertwined.

In cross-border M&A deals, some common questions arise: Should I select arbitration? If so, what choices should I make in the arbitration clause? Is splitting the seat from the applicable substantive law a good compromise? What are the typical procedural challenges in such matters and how can they be addressed in contract drafting? What, if any, solutions to those challenges are offered by arbitral practice?

The German Arbitration Institute or the DIS (Deutsche Institution für Schiedsgerichtsbarkeit e.V.), Germany's leading arbitration institution since 1920, comes to Tallinn. With our panel of experienced arbitration practitioners from Estonia and abroad, we discuss some of these questions and learn about current trends and recent experiences.
